President To Make No Asia Commitment At Big 4 Talks

Plans Outlined To Legislators At White House

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported to have assured congressional leaders today he will make no commitments on Asia at the forthcoming Geneva conference.

Three legislators who sat in on a White House briefing said the President made it clear he was not going to deal substantively with Asiatic problems in a meeting in which Asians themselves were not represented.

From the legislators came this additional outline of American plans for Eisenhower's meeting with the Prime Ministers of Britain, France and Russia, beginning at Geneva next Monday:

1. The President will bring up the question of disarmament, insisting that it can be accomplished only by adequate, open and complete policing and inspection.

2. The United States will take the initiative in proposing that steps be taken looking toward unification of Germany.

3. Eisenhower will attempt to keep before the conference constantly the issue of self-determination for the peoples of the satellite states.

4. He does not expect the meeting to produce any final solution to existing problems but hopes it may bring some new approaches to those problems as well as a new spirit of cooperation.

The President was said to have outlined his position on Asiatic problems in response to a question by Sen. Clements of Kentucky, the acting Democratic leader.

"Sky's Limit," Wiley Says

As one lawmaker summed it up, the President said he was not going to Geneva with the aim of discussing Far Eastern problems. He would not agree, the President was quoted as saying, to take any steps that would involve the fate of nonparticipating nations.

However some officials have indicated that if the Russians insist on bringing up Far East issues, the United States would be ready to discuss them.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), who attended the briefing said at least 20 issues were mentioned as likely to come up.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said "The sky's the limit."

Robertson Nominated For Defense Dept. Post

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Robert W. Robertson, an Ohio manufacturer, was nominated today as deputy secretary of defense.

President Eisenhower sent the 47-year-old Cincinnati Republican's name to the Senate for confirmation.

Robertson would succeed Robert B. Anderson, whose expected resignation was announced yesterday. Anderson, who had served as Secretary of Defense Wilson's right-hand man since early 1954, plans to step out the middle of next month.

In addition to heading the Champion Paper and Fibre Co. of Hamilton, Ohio, Robertson is vice president of the American Paper and Pulp Assn. and vice chairman of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council.

Ex-Model, Mother Of Two, Awaits Date With Gallows

LONDON, July 12 (AP)—Beautiful Ruth Ellis kissed her mother goodbye tonight in a dingy prison waiting room and walked slowly back to her death cell and an early morning appointment with the hangman.

The 28-year-old platinum blonde ex-model, a mother of two children was prepared to die on the scaffold tomorrow for the passion murder of her young racing motorist lover, David Blakely.

As the young killer's mother left the prison, a tiny figure, bowed and tear-stained, blue uniformed officials hammered the official notice of execution onto the bulletin board beside the iron-studded gates on Holloway Jail.

Crowds clustered around immediately to read the single sentence: "The sentence of law passed upon Ruth Ellis, found guilty of murder, will be carried into execution at 9 a. m. tomorrow."

Victor Mishcon, a top flight British lawyer, called on Mrs. Ellis this afternoon to get fresh details in a dramatic legal bid to halt the execution.

Mishcon spent 90 minutes in earnest talk with the ex-model and then left hurriedly to call at the office of Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd-George, the only man who can recommend a royal reprieve.

Humphrey Hints He'd Accept Tax Plan For Roads

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said today he is "perfectly willing" to accept, as second choice, a plan to pay for a vast road building program through immediate tax increases.

Humphrey testified before the House Public Works Committee on a sub-committee proposal to hike federal gasoline taxes from 2 to 3 cents a gallon and also boost levies on trucks, diesel fuel, and truck tires and tubes.

These increases would raise more than 800 million dollars a year to help finance President Eisenhower's proposed program for 47 billion dollars in federal-state building over the next 12 years.

Most of the increased federal funds — about 24 billion dollars — would be spent for completing a 40,000-mile network of interstate defense highways.

Eisenhower proposed financing the program by creating a special government corporation which would sell 30-year bonds, technically outside the federal debt limit and outside the regular budget. The bonds would be paid off from revenue from present highway user taxes.

Humphrey said the bond plan "still offers the best method" of financing the big program but the Treasury has no objection if Congress decides to adopt the pay-as-you-build taxes favored by the subcommittee.

Six Perish In Fire

ST. MINEON DE CHARLEVOIX, Que., July 12 (AP)—A mother and five of her seven children died today in a fire that swept through their frame home in this town 115 miles northeast of Quebec City.

The B-57, the United States adaptation of the British Canberra, burst into flames after bowling over a dirt loader and a dump truck.

Capt. Roy C. Wagster was trapped in the flaming wreckage and dead half an hour later when firemen could reach him. He was flying the plane solo from Baltimore to the Warner Robbins Air Force Base near Macon, Ga.

The explosion derailed 29 freight cars. The cause was believed to have been a split switch.

As the two gas-filled cars exploded, the flames spread quickly and soon 10 cars were a flaming mass.

VINCENT, Ala., July 12 (AP)—A Central of Georgia freight train exploded in the middle of this town of 1,240 last night.

There were no injuries, but this central Alabama town was gripped in fear for more than three hours as two tank cars filled with liquefied petroleum gas blew up.

The cars exploded just as the cars crossed an overpass on highway 25, in the heart of the town.

The explosion derailed 29 freight cars. The cause was believed to have been a split switch.

Committees OK Free Salk Shots

Government Clears More Vaccine

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Plans for federal financial aid in vaccinating the nation's youngsters against polio jumped ahead today as the government released another 720,000 shots of Salk vaccine.

By unanimous votes, both the House Commerce and Senate Labor Committees approved differing measures aimed at providing free injections for children under 20 and for pregnant women.

Just who in these groups would benefit would be up to the states. It could be everyone.

Backers of the bills said that if Congress goes along and no further kinks develop some state inoculation programs should get under way this fall. They said extra shots beyond the supply needed by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis should become available then.

The fall months—at the end of the polio season—are regarded as a good time to start a three-shot Salk series because inoculation could be completed before the next epidemic season sets in.

The vaccine released today raised to 2,558,000 cubic centimeters the quantity okayed since new and stiffer testing standards were adopted May 26. Each c. c. represents one shot.

The U. S. Public Health Service said the 720,000 shots just approved were made by the Eli Lilly Co. of Indianapolis and would go to the national foundation for its program of free inoculation of first and second-grade school children.

A health service spokesman said he did not know where the Lilly vaccine would be distributed.

Officers' Clubs Shutting Doors To Korean Cuties

SEOUL, Wednesday, July 13 (AP)—U. S. 8th Army officers' clubs are quietly shutting their doors to Korean cuties after getting the word from Lt. Gen. John H. Collier, acting Army commander.

Collier gave the verbal order last week. He was a leader in cracking down on U. S. soldiers fraternizing with German women when he commanded at Stuttgart several years ago.

An Army spokesman today said the unwritten rule was ordered "to eliminate an undesirable situation which was getting entirely out of hand."

Army officers have been courted hundreds of Korean girls and taking them to officially sanctioned dances ever since the armistice.

Bomber Crash Kills Pilot, Injures Three

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—An Air Force bomber landing with only one of its twin jet engines today roared off the Glenn L. Martin Co. runway into construction equipment, killing the pilot and injuring three workmen in its blazing path.

The B-57, the United States adaptation of the British Canberra, burst into flames after bowling over a dirt loader and a dump truck.

Capt. Roy C. Wagster was trapped in the flaming wreckage and dead half an hour later when firemen could reach him. He was flying the plane solo from Baltimore to the Warner Robbins Air Force Base near Macon, Ga.

Dixon-Yates Probe Balked By SEC Head

Ike Influence Query Is Evaded; Contempt Action Threatened

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The head of the Securities & Exchange Commission was threatened with possible prosecution for contempt of Congress today in connection with the Dixon-Yates row.

The possibility was raised by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), after SEC Chairman J. Sinclair Armstrong refused to testify whether his agency was free from White House "influence" in handling financial aspects of the Dixon-Yates private power contract.

But Armstrong stood firm on a declaration that he couldn't discuss the question because of a standing presidential order not to disclose confidential exchanges between executive departments of the government.

"I don't mean to imply by asserting privilege that there were any such communications," Armstrong told a Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee headed by Kefauver.

President Eisenhower ordered the controversial Dixon-Yates contract cancelled yesterday after receiving assurances from the city of Memphis that it would build a generating plant to supply the electricity the federal government had ordered from the private interests.

"Fair" Pact, President Says

Eisenhower was reported today to have described the contract as "a good fair agreement." Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said the President used the phrase in a talk with Edgar Dixon, one of the utility magnates with whom the contract was negotiated.

Eisenhower called Dixon in, Snyder said, to express his appreciation "for the fine spirit and cooperation with the government." Dixon and his associates demonstrated "through the proceedings designed to provide needed power for the Memphis area."

At the Senate hearing, Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) complained "an iron curtain is being erected between Congress and the SEC."

Alcoa And Union Open Pay Talks

PITTSBURGH, July 12 (AP)—The nation's No. 1 aluminum producer today opened wage negotiations with the CIO United Steelworkers on an amicable note, promising an increase and a "real effort" to establish a pay structure.

Negotiators for the union and Aluminum Co. of America met two hours in the initial session. The meeting then was recessed until a date to be mutually agreed on by both sides — probably next week.

Nicholas Zonarch, union negotiator, said the steelworkers explained in detail demands for an hourly pay increase and a program to classify production workers into "well defined" pay groups.

The union will be free to strike at midnight July 31 if an agreement is not reached.

Austrian-Soviet Pact

VIENNA, Austria, July 12 (AP)—Austria and the Soviet Union signed a reparations agreement in Moscow today. The pact calls on Austria to deliver to Russia 150 million dollars in goods within the next six years.

Pockets $32,000 Grandma Decides Not To Try $64,000 Question In TV Quiz

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer, the Bible-reading grandmother, tonight declined to shoot for $64,000 on a television quiz show, and took the $32,000 she had already won.

Mrs. Kreitzer cited a Biblical quotation—"Let your moderation be known to all men"—as her basis for turning back from the big prize.

A second before she had said that she was "kind of confident I could answer the $64,000 question."

If she had tried for the $64,000 and lost, she would have received only a consolation prize of an automobile.

Mrs. Kreitzer, 54, is a $3,000-a-year typist at a naval supply depot near her home in Camp Hill, Pa.

She used her expert knowledge of the Bible — a book she has read almost every day of her life — to reach the $32,000 stage. As the money got bigger, the questions got harder and more complicated.

But she sailed right through with scarcely a hitch. The process took several weeks. First she won $8,000, then $16,000, and finally last week $32,000 with a query about the 12 apostles.

Snow Avalanche Kills Seven Boys

FREEDOM NEAR — German-born Rita Adams, 18, stands outside the fence of American headquarters in West Berlin where she was later granted a visa to enter the U. S. After marrying Pvt. Earl Adams, Harrison, Ohio, she went to visit a sister in the Soviet sector where she was seized by the Reds and jailed for six weeks when she refused to renounce her American husband.

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Seven American boys were swept to their deaths in an avalanche of snow near the peak of one of the Canadian Rockies, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police announced today. They were on their third mountain climbing expedition.

Six of the teen-agers were from Eastern cities and the seventh from St. Louis. They were caught by the avalanche yesterday after reaching within 2,000 feet of the top of 11,656-foot Mt. Temple. All the bodies have been recovered.

Two other boys in the party—an 11-member group from the Wilderness Club of Philadelphia—were injured.

No Advance Notice Of Try

Although the youths were attempting one of the most difficult climbs in this region, a Banff park official said none of the National Park officers knew of their try. Four Mexican mountaineers were killed last fall in a similar accident only 4½ miles from the scene of Monday's tragedy.

The boys had reached a point between 9,500 and 10,000 feet when they decided to turn back. As they started down, a mass of snow and rock roared upon them, tossing them 300 feet down the slope.

One died instantly, rescuers said. The others succumbed to multiple injuries and exposure in the bitter weather last night before search parties could reach them.

Twins Among Victims

The dead were: Richard and James Balis, 13-year-old twins, Philadelphia; William Wise, 15, Philadelphia; William Watts, 16, Whitmarsh, Pa.; Miles Mable, 12, Collegeville, Pa.; David Chapin, 15, Stamford, Conn.; and Luther Seddon, 13, St. Louis.

In Banff hospital are Frederick Ballard, 13, Philadelphia, and Jerry Clatenburg, 14, Rye, N. Y.

Peter Smith, 13, of Paoli, Pa., and Tony Woodfield, 18, Philadelphia, were the only two in the group of 11 who escaped unhurt. They rushed back to their base in the Moraine Lake camping grounds to give the alarm.

Six FBI agents under the direction of Joseph Thornton, special agent in charge of the Omaha office, arrived in Sioux City to take charge of the investigation.

The officers explained that a "John Doe" warrant enables any law officer anywhere in the country to arrest any suspect and hold him for the FBI.

In Sioux City, several men have been questioned since the abduction but police reported no solid developments from this activity.

Among clues on which authorities were working was a set of fingerprints taken from a cedar chest in Donna Sue's bedroom and another set of partial prints found on the frame of the screen on the bedroom window. Officers said the kidnaper entered the room and left it through the window.

Detective L. Thomas Warnstadt said that "sheer sadism" seemed the only motive for the crime. No demand for ransom ever was made. The Davises received no word of any kind from the abductor.

Mother, Daughter Slain By Cab Driver

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—A 26-year-old mother and her 19-month-old daughter were found murdered in their first floor apartment today, and police said the husband's brother had admitted rapping, beating and strangling them.

Police said Joseph Reade, 25, an unemployed taxi driver, had signed a statement admitting that he killed his sister-in-law, Mrs. Beverly Reade, and little Cheryl Lynn Reade.

Their nude bodies were found by Mrs. Reade's husband, Francis, 23, when he returned home from his night-shift factory job in this southwestern New York furniture city.

Availability of the belts was announced by Ford yesterday following extensive crash tests with life size dummies representing human passengers.

DETROIT, July 12 (AP)—Ford Motor Co. announced today that seat belts for its Ford cars will have a suggested list price of $11.95 each plus an estimated installation cost of about $2 per belt.

Today the House was urged by its appropriations committee to stop further construction, by withholding money, until the institution's architecture "is more firmly established."

In reporting out a diversified money bill, the committee disapproved

Teen-Agers Die Trying To Scale Canadian Peak

Dr. Sam Denied Another Trial

CLEVELAND, July 12 (AP)—Three judges today denied an appeal by Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard for a new trial. They held the 31-year-old osteopath's conviction for the murder of his pregnant wife ended "a fair trial" and that "there was sufficient evidence to support" the jury verdict.

"I have no comment," Sheppard told county jailer Michael Uccello when the jailer handed him written questions from newsmen. Sheppard had been asleep on his cell cot when Uccello brought him the news, and he relaxed on the cot again after receiving it.

The defeat does not mean an end to Sheppard's battle to upset his conviction last Dec. 21 for second degree murder in the killing of his wife, Marilyn, 31, at their Lakewood home early on July 4, 1954.

The Appellate Court still has to rule on another new trial motion based on what the defense claims in newly-discovered evidence. But in rejecting a new trial today on contentions of error, the appellate judges left little reason for Sheppard to hope they would grant him a new trial later this month when they make their second ruling.

"The main problem of the unification of Germany and of safeguarding European security must not be replaced by the subordinate problem of the manner in which elections are held," the statement said.

The Russians contended "the solution of the German question is indissolubly linked with ensuring the security of Europe as a whole."

Alien Army Bill Signed

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed into law today a bill continuing for two years an experiment in recruiting aliens into the Army with ultimate U. S. citizenship or residence as a reward.

Air Academy Design Row Brings House Holdup Call

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The House came out today against spending any more money at the new Air Force Academy until all 15 millions previously appropriated were spent.

A row over the design of the Colorado Springs project has seethed in Congress ever since proposed ultramodern models for some of its buildings were unveiled.

The 125-million-dollar academy, conceived to take a place beside West Point and Annapolis, was dedicated with considerable pomp yesterday.

Today the House was urged by its appropriations committee to stop further construction, by withholding money, until the institution's architecture "is more firmly established."

Moscow Calls For Collective Security Pact

All-European Setup Proposed To Clear Obstacles To Unity

MOSCOW, July 12 (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed tonight that the problem of restoring German unity be approached through a European collective security system.

The Russians warned that any attempt to involve Germany in a military alliance "leads to an increased threat of a new war."

The Kremlin issued the statement six days in advance of the summit conference of the Big Four at Geneva, and at the end of an important full meeting of the Soviet Communist party Central Committee. The committee, among other things, discussed the convening of the 20th Congress of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

The statement, issued through the official news agency Tass, proposed that a European collective security system could be joined by both West and Communist East Germany and that all European states could participate, "irrespective of their social and political differences."

Alternate Is "Stalemate"

The statement rejected any plan which would countenance a choice by a unified Germany of joining the Western military alliance. It added that it was obvious the Western powers in their turn would reject any proposal which envisaged joining a unified Germany to the Warsaw agreement, which set up a sort of Communist bloc NATO.

"The U.S.S.R. opposes the policy of reviving German militarism and involving West Germany, or a reunited Germany, in any military groups," said the statement, "not because it fears a militarist united Germany, but because such a policy leads to an increased threat of a new war."

"The new war, if it were to break out, would cause enormous and unprecedented human sacrifices and material destruction. In a modern war when new, formerly nonexistent types of weapons of mass destruction have appeared—atomic, hydrogen, guided and others — it is obvious that not a single country taking part in the war could escape enormous destruction and human sacrifice. However, hardly anyone can doubt that the greatest danger of a new war would be for Germany. Germany would be in the center of military operations with all the ensuing disasters for the German people."

Elections "Secondary"

The statement accused the West of attempting to sacrifice German unity to plans for a rebirth of German militarism. Against this background, the Russians said, the matter of coming to terms on procedure for all-German elections is relegated to a secondary position.

The outstanding question, said the Kremlin, is whether Germany joins any military group.

"This main problem of the unification of Germany and of safeguarding European security must not be replaced by the subordinate problem of the manner in which elections are held," the statement said.

The Russians contended "the solution of the German question is indissolubly linked with ensuring the security of Europe as a whole."

Ho Expects Russia To Match China Aid

Viet Nam President Arrives In Moscow

MOSCOW, July 12 (AP)—Ho Chi Minh, president of the Communist republic of Viet Nam, landed in Moscow today and promptly indicated he expects the Soviet Union to give him at least as much money and economic assistance as Red China promised him.

The leader of the North Viet Nam government came by way of Siberia from Peiping, where the Chinese Communist government presented him with a sizable gift of money to help his country's economy. From President Klement Voroshilov at Moscow Airport, Ho received a sizable kiss.

Speaking at Moscow's Central Military Airport, Ho said:

"We firmly believe in the help we shall get in fulfilling the tasks which lie before us."

Ho then added that he also expected Soviet political help in insuring that elections would be held "promptly" in all Viet Nam, which was divided last year by the Geneva foreign ministers conference, signalling the end of Indochina's civil war. The Geneva agreement called for all-Viet Nam elections in 1956.

Ho then praised the joint declaration by India's Prime Minister Nehru, also a recently lionized Soviet guest, and Premier Bulganin, adding that he hoped for good relations with France and all the rest of the world.

There was some indication from these dispatches that President Ho might be playing Peiping against Moscow, trading influence in Viet Nam in return for the best deal in economic aid to the new Communist nation of Southeast Asia.

Three Commissioners Prove One Too Many

QUEENSTOWN, Md., July 12 (AP)—This small Eastern Shore community is supposed to have three town commissioners, but voters couldn't quite manage that many in yesterday's town election.

Only two, W. I. Tuttle, incumbent, and Virbrook Beecher, ran for office. Town Clerk George W. Aldridge Sr. said Tuttle and Beecher will have to appoint the third commissioner, if they can find some one who will take the job.

In yesterday's balloting, 22 of 125 eligible voters gave Beecher 21 votes, Tuttle 13.

Wolfson Defends Capital Transit Dividend Policy

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Financier Louis E. Wolfson told investigating senators today the stockholders of the strikebound Capital Transit Co. "want everything they can get."

Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) asked if that meant they wanted to "try to get every last cent in dividends" at the expense of the riding public.

Wolfson said he wouldn't agree about "that last cent."

The 43-year-old financier, board chairman of Capital Transit, was before a Senate District of Columbia subcommittee which is holding hearings on a bill by Morse to take away the company's franchise to operate.

At one point, Morse told Wolfson he was putting the stockholders first and labor second. "That's a labor philosophy of 1845," he said.

The issue was over whether Wolfson and his directors should hand out dividends to stockholders that exceed company revenues.

Wolfson said, "I believe in paying the highest dividends in the country. I'm not going to sacrifice the stockholders in order to create public favor in Washington. I won't."

Sen. Case (R-N.J.) said there was "ground for questioning" Wolfson's dividend policies since the interests of the riding public were concerned as well as those of the striking bus and street car drivers.

Wolfson and his immediate associates have realized about three million dollars from dividends since they bought control of the company in 1949 for $2,200,000. In all, stockholders have shared seven million dollars in dividends in that time.

Boy In 'Undies' Upsets Traffic

PHILADELPHIA, July 12 (AP)—A little boy, wearing only his underpants, and ducking in and out of heavy traffic, sent many north Philadelphians into a tizzy today.

And all because it was such a wonderful morning that no three-year-old, eager for adventure, could stay in bed.

The mild breeze, the bright sunshine, the fascinating sounds from outside proved an irresistible invitation to Howard Gross Jr., to explore the world.

Quietly, so that he'd not rouse his eldest sister sleeping in the same room, Howard tiptoed into the hall a little before 7 a.m. His father was out delivering newspapers. His mother and his three other sisters slept. So Howard dragged a chair to the front door, climbed up and opened the lock. Into the open he walked.

Down the busy streets he sauntered, yanking up his pants as they kept slipping down his plump hips. Then he darted off the sidewalk and into the middle of traffic. Dismayed drivers jammed on brakes, blew horns, yelled warnings.

Jean Ehmer, a telephone operator on her way to work, ran out, snatched up the boy, and handed him over to police in a cruising car. Meanwhile, the father had arrived home, missed his son and himself called police. Soon he had the whole story, and went round and collected his son.

Super-Carrier Will Put To Sea August 16

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The aircraft carrier Forrestal, world's largest warship, will put to sea for the first time in mid-August and be commissioned Oct. 1.

The 60,000-ton vessel, first of a new class of carriers designed to handle airplanes of the atomic and supersonic age, will leave Hampton Roads, Va., Aug. 16 for two days of sea trials by the builders, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. She will move out into the Atlantic again on Aug. 29 with a Navy inspection team on board.

The great majority of battleships when their sight develops, are far-sighted, although a certain percentage later become near-sighted.

Contest Winner Chooses $25,000 To Two Oil Wells

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., July 12 (AP)—A Fayetteville man, who won a contest giving him the choice of $25,000 cash or half interest in two Oklahoma oil wells with a potential of $100,000, today decided on the money.

Vernon B. Fitzhugh, in making his decision, said:

"I'm just tired of losing sleep and my appetite—we've thought about it for two weeks. We may have done the wrong thing but at least it's over."

He said he would put the cash into the bank until Jan. 1 and then pay off his income tax, about $7,000.

U.S. Farm Group Will Keep Ears Open In Russia

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—A dozen U. S. farm leaders who are going to visit Russia said today they will keep their minds and eyes open and "our ears unplugged."

Dr. W. V. Lambert, dean of agriculture at the University of Nebraska, told newsmen the 12-man delegation has no preconceived ideas of what to expect.

All the 12 men were at the Department of Agriculture to meet reporters except Lauren K. Soth, editorial page editor of Des Moines Register and Tribune. Soth, who wrote the editorial which led to the exchange of U. S. and Russian farm delegations passed up the news conference to go to New York for the day.

Soth's editorial had suggested Russian farmers, admittedly lagging behind their production goals, could profit by first hand observation of Iowa's famed corn-bog production.

The Russian group of 13 farm leaders is scheduled to arrive July 16 in New York, flying the next day to Des Moines for a month's bus tour of the Midwest and West. The U. S. delegation flies from New York City tonight for Helsinki, Finland, and thence to Moscow.

"Afterwards, Mr. Gable took her in his arms and kissed her. I don't know for how long, but pretty long. Maybe two or three seconds. A good kiss."

Hollywood observers noted that the bright, blonde onetime showgirl from Erie, Pa., resembles Gable's third wife, Carole Lombard, in appearance and interests. For Albert Menasco of St. Helena, Calif., and Mrs. Elizabeth Nessar, will take.

Their marriage makes Gable a riage to sugar heir Adolph Spreckels' fifth family man for the first time. He's Kay was Spreckels' fifth now has two stepchildren, Adolph wife. ## SRC Paid Sen. Goldstein's Father $7,000 For Land After Offer Of $2,625 Rejected

BALTIMORE, July 12 (P)—Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) said today he was as surprised as anybody when the State Roads Commission suddenly gave his father $7,000 for land after they first offered $2,625.

The deal for 3.3 acres between Prince Frederick and Hallowing Point was detailed by the Baltimore Evening Sun in its series on land purchases by the commission.

The $7,000 was recommended by Joseph D. Buscher, assistant attorney general for the commission who is investigating Montgomery County land purchases. Buscher recommended a settlement while the commission's suit to condemn the Goldstein property for $3,000 was pending in Calvert County Circuit Court last year.

Sen. Goldstein said he had expected all along to try the suit, and didn't know why it was settled.

Buscher said it was settled after he was told last October that work on widening Maryland 231 was stopped at the Goldstein property because of the price dispute. Buscher said he went to the site, talked with the senator's father, Goodman, and other relatives, not including the senator.

The elder Goldstein had asked originally for $10,000 for the 4,000 foot strip of timber and farm land the State wanted to widen the road from 20 to 24 feet and its right-of-way from 40 to 80.

The State Right-of-Way Department had appraised it at $1,625. It called in two independent appraisers who put a value of $3,000 on it, which the elder Goldstein also refused, and the suit followed.

After his talk with the senator's father, Buscher wrote the commission. "The sum of $7,000 is considerable in excess of the outside real estate appraisers' valuation of this taking, and is also in excess of the valuation placed thereon by the Right-of-Way Department."

"In view of the above, the Right-of-Way Department, as such, submits the attached option (for $7,000) without recommendation."

"The writer, however, has administrative director of the Right-of-Way Department, and being cognizant of all the facts presented in this case, recommends that the option be accepted."

Norman Pritchett, chief State engineer, said it was rumors that an injunction would be filed to stop the road building that led to Buscher's consultation with Goldstein.

This also surprised Sen. Goldstein.

"You can't have an injunction against the State Roads Commission," he said in denying any such thought. "Everybody knows that. They have the right of entry as soon as they file condemnation papers."

"A bill to take away such power of the Roads Commission failed in the 1955 General Assembly. It would have forced the commission to stay off the land until a price dispute was settled finally in court."

Ben Du Pre, an assistant right-of-way commissioner, denied in the meantime three charges of misconduct by the commission.

In a letter to Russell S. Davis, state commissioner of personnel who will conduct the hearing, Du Pre said he never had any conversations with Dyke Cullum at which proposals of "unethical conduct were either made or even discussed." The Roads Commission said Cullum told them that Du Pre had offered him information on proposed routes of highways in Montgomery County.

Negroes Will Have Choice Of Schools

HAGERSTOWN, July 12 (P)—The Washington County Board of Education said today that henceforth Negro pupils will have their choice of the county school they will attend.

A statement by the board, made public by County Superintendent William M. Brish, said the board accepts the recent decision of the Supreme Court declaring segregation unconstitutional and will comply "with the intent and spirit of the law."

The statement asked full cooperation of the residents of the county. Previously, Negro children from the county—about 30 to 40 of them—were brought into Hagerstown by bus to attend the county's only Negro school, the North Street School.

Dieting will not keep your chin single. So get busy and give your chin a workout to bring firmness to the contour. This is the area where age shows first, and it may be later than you think.

If you're young, today's exercises will only take about five minutes a week of your time to avoid a double chin. If you're in your late 20's or 30's twice and three times a week is advisable. But, as you get on and hit 45 or turning your head as far as possible to look over the shoulders.

I know you can't go around balancing a basket on your head, but you can manage a book. Take a profile peek at yourself in the mirror. I'm sure you have an upright, graceful neck. That's a secret of the single-chin standard.

Heskett Gives Comments On Aviation Commission

Charles Z. Heskett, local attorney and chairman of the State Aviation Commission, says that he doesn't blame the director of the commission for resigning.

Monday, Richard A. Jamison of Baltimore said he was resigning as director of the commission which had its budget eliminated by the last General Assembly and has been functioning with two members whose terms have expired.

"We have gone to Annapolis to discuss our budget, but we can't even get a hearing. No one will sit still long enough to listen to us," Heskett declared.

"Apparently the legislators want to ignore that we are living in the air age," he added.

A Complete Vacation at The Admiral

Heskett related how the commission obtained an $11,000 grant from the Board of Public Works after a conference with Governor McKeldin to meet the agency's bare needs until the next General Assembly.

This year the aviation board prepared what Heskett termed an intelligent, prudent, and economical budget of $25,222.

But at the last minute, the legislature cut the commission out without a cent.

Dr. Carl Everstine, director of the state Department of Legislative Reference, in the survey made for the council advised that the aviation commission activities were necessary and that the expense of the agency was justified.

In fact, Heskett added, the report suggested more funds to strengthen the commission's functions.

The elimination of its funds came at an inopportune time, Heskett declared. For two years the federal government withdrew its funds for development and improvement of airports on a match-fund basis with state, county and local governments.

But this year, the Cumberland attorney pointed out, the federal government made available $65,000,000 for this purpose.

As far as Western Maryland is concerned, Heskett explained his aims were to secure navigational aids for Cumberland Municipal Airport and obtain a landing strip in the Garrett County recreation area.

Heskett indicated that it is useless to serve on a commission if it can't even get the cooperation of the legislature.

Appeal Made In Silicosis Court Case

Time element will play the important role in a case involving the disability of a clay mine worker who has silicosis.

An appeal in the decision of the State Industrial Accident Commission in giving Raymond Geary of Borden Shaft a total permanent disability award of $12,500 was argued before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The State Accident Fund and Big Savage Refractories, former employer of Geary, had appealed the commission's decision.

Thomas F. Finan was attorney for the refractories and Milton Gerson, counsel for Geary.

The history of the case shows Geary worked in the fire clay mines of the Big Savage firm and its predecessors for 29 years.

On September 16, 1954 he was awarded $1,000 for being partially disabled after testimony was heard by the Medical Board of the accident commission.

The medical board set the extent of Geary's disability.

On March 3 of this year Geary requested another hearing, this time before the accident commission.

As a result of his appeal from the Medical Board's decision, Geary was found by the State Accident Commission to be permanently and totally disabled and was given the top award.

Testimony before the Medical Board had a Frostburg physician and two Cumberland physicians reporting that Geary had silicotic conditions in his lungs.

The board ruled that he had a very "minimal silicotic condition" and was not totally disabled.

The point brought to light yesterday concerned this feature. Prior to June 1 of this year, there was a law that stated the Accident Commission could not reverse the Medical Board on its medical findings.

The 1955 General Assembly deleted this law, which means that after June 1 the Accident Commission can reverse the Medical Board on any of its decisions.

Finan contended the old law covered this case. Gerson claimed the appeal was a part of the proceedings in the case, and the new law applied.

Both attorneys agreed to submit legal briefs to substantiate their contentions.

Herbert Hoover was the only Quaker who became President of the United States.

Harry Delbrook Heads FB Planning Group No. 5

Planning Group 5 of the Farm Bureau elected officers at the meeting held in the form of a chicken dinner celebrating its eighth anniversary. It was held recently at the Eckhart Square Circle Club house.

Harry Delbrook, Mt. Savage, was elected president for the ensuing year; Charles Harvey, Shaft, vice president; Mrs. Vernon Loar, Loarstown; secretary-treasurer; Marshall Porter, Eckhart, discussion leader; and Mrs. Marshall Porter, Publicity chairman.

Gorman Morgan of the Morgan Brothers Farm Supply Company, Frostburg, was guest speaker and gave pointers on farm machinery. Means of increasing sales promotion campaigns and slogans were discussed. It was announced the Farm Bureau asks for Feed Wheat bill, 1834 H. R., that farmers grow feed wheat without restriction or penalty; reciprocal Trade Agreements extended for three years with protection from rigid tariffs; that Governor McKeldin appoint land-water resources commission early; and for a fence along the Mexico-Texas border to curb hoof and mouth disease.

It was pointed out that the Supreme Court holds that agriculture is exempted from Fair Labor Standards Act; that W. E. Hamilton, AFBF research director, told the House Judiciary Committee holding hearings on the anti-trust laws that agriculture is competitive and farmers cannot trade chickens for plowshares. He called for an end of monopoly in labor and industry. It also was noted that Japan and Korea are to buy surplus commodities, and Venezuela, Cuba, Peru, Brazil, Mexico and Colombia want hatching eggs and chicks from the United States. The next meeting will be at 8 p. m. August 4 at the home of Vernon Loar.

A bake sale will be held by the Progressive Young Women's Club of Potomac Valley, at the Barton Dairy Bar, McMullen Highway, July 16, beginning at noon.

SPECIAL HEARING AID TRADE-IN OFFER!

LARGE ALLOWANCE ON YOUR OLD HEARING AID

WHAT'S THE STORY ON HEARING AID TRADE-IN OFFERS?

EVEN WITH TRADE-IN MOST HEARING AIDS WILL STILL COST MORE THAN A ZENITH!

Some dealers advertise a trade-in or allowance of from $50 to $100 on your present hearing aid towards the purchase of one of their transistor models. When you go to buy one, you'll find that they usually sell for $265.00, $270.00 and up to over $285.00 each! It's easy to offer a trade-in on a hearing aid that sells at such prices but...

LOOK AT THE FACTS

Suppose you are offered a trade-in of $100.00 on a $285.00 model. Figure it out... you're still paying $185.00 for the aid. Compare that to the $125.00 Zenith Royal-T. Quite a saving when you buy a Zenith. Here's another point. $125.00 buys you a new Zenith and you still have your old instrument for a "spare" — a higher priced hearing aid with a trade-in leaves you with only one hearing aid which still may have cost you more than the Zenith Royal-T.

Get the hearing help you want and save money at the same time. Prove to yourself what thousands of other Zenith users have proved... that you can't buy a better hearing aid than a Zenith at any price!

Court Rules Approval Of Home Rule

Chief Judge George Henderson issued a decree yesterday that the proper method to change the city's charter is through the constitutional home rule provisions approved by the voters in November and set up by the 1955 General Assembly.

A friendly suit was filed against the Mayor and Council by Owen E. Hitchens in an effort to determine the proper procedure to change the city charter.

The city wishes to issue bonds to cover the cost of installing a water main to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch. Judge Henderson ruled that the constitutional home rule amendment repealed the statutory home rule provisions passed in 1951 for Cumberland.

Judge Henderson stated that "the proper legal method of amending the present charter of x x x Cumberland is under the provisions of Chapter 423 of the Acts of the General Assembly of 1955 (the constitutional home rule bill) and not pursuant to Chapter 702 of the Acts of 1951 which added certain 'legislative' home rule amendment sections to the City Charter; that therefore the officials of the City of Cumberland should not be enjoined from proceedings taken to delete from the Charter said Sections 215 to 222, inclusive, which were added by Chapter 702 since by Chapter 423 of the Acts of 1955 said sections have been repealed, and the method of amendment of all municipal charters in the State of Maryland (except that for the City of Baltimore) set out in Chapter 423 has been substituted therefore."

Judge Henderson said he has given an oral opinion of his decision to Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and William C. Walsh, attorney for Hitchens. The judge added a written opinion will follow. Hitchens had sought to enjoin the city from proceeding under constitutional home rule.

It is understood that Walsh will

Keyser Man Found Guilty Of Assault

A 31-year-old construction worker was convicted yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of assaulting a local boy who told police he was ordered to disrobe.

The defendant, Ernest Guy Gordon, RD 3, Keyser, pleaded not guilty and Magistrate Donald W. Mason deferred sentence until Friday at 10:30 a. m.

Represented by counsel, Gordon did not testify at yesterday's trial. Character witnesses for the defense included former Mayor Thomas S. Post.

Gordon was arrested Monday at a construction project in South End by Detective Donald H. Smith. Detective Joseph H. Stutcher said the suspect told him he "was drinking" and didn't remember too much about what happened Friday afternoon on Laing Avenue and in a field near Leavitt Creek. He denied forcing James Forbeck, 14, into his car.

The suspect reportedly said he didn't threaten the youth with a razor or order him to disrobe and "I don't remember hitting the boy."

Following his trial Gordon was returned to jail.

take his case to the Court of Appeals. This is so a ruling can be made in the state's highest court to reach a point of finality, as far as bond issuing is concerned.

The Mayor and Council has passed two resolutions in the past two weeks, one changing the method of amending the charter and the second changing the method of issuing water department bonds. Both of these resolutions were passed in accordance with the constitutional home rule provisions.

Both of these, while being passed now, have a 30-day waiting period before they become effective. It is hoped a decision will be handed down by the Court of Appeals by that time.

Stock Market Slips Back After Late Selling Burst

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — The stock market ran into late selling today and slipped back from its best after a promising start.

The decline erased enough of the early gains to bring about a mixed close.

Westinghouse up 2 1/2 at 66 1/2 and U. S. Gypsum up 6 1/2 at 27 3/4 were among top gainers while Sears Roebuck off 3 1/2 at 100 and Du Pont off 2 1/4 at 23 1/4 were among prominent losers. Most changes were with a 2-point range.

Sears Roebuck, which has been unusually strong in recent sessions because of split rumors, dropped back sharply today to a low of 98 1/2 after directors declared the usual dividend and said they were continuing to think about a split possibility.

The steels, motors and rails were well ahead at one time, but at the close motors were up, steels mixed, and rails down. The aircrafts and chemicals also were lower. Coppers ended mixed. The radio-televions were higher.

American Telephone displayed surprising activity and strength with a gain of 1 1/4 at 185 1/2, right near its high of the year.

Pepsi-Cola gained 1 1/4 at 23 1/2 as the day's most active issue on 42,900 shares. It was followed by Avco Mfg. up 1/4 at 6 1/2, Chrysler up 1/2 at 88, Sperry Rand off 1/4 at 26 1/4, and Allegheny Corp. up 1/4 at 10 1/4.

Penn Avenue Derby Check Begins Today

The inspection center for Cumberland's eighth annual Soap Box Derby is scheduled to open today at 10 a. m. in the auditorium of the Pennsylvania Avenue School.

Members of the Junior Association of Commerce inspection committee will start checking the cars this afternoon. The boy-built gravity racers can be taken to the school up until 7 p. m. today.

On Thursday evening 14 cars from Lonaconing, Westernport and McCoole will be checked and weighed by the inspectors. This phase of the Derby will be completed by Friday when trial runs will be conducted on Penn Avenue, scene of the Saturday races, from 2 to 4 p. m.

Lonaconing racers will be picked up by the Appel Transfer Company Thursday afternoon at the C. C. Miller Garage, Main Street, while those in Westernport will be picked up at the Riverside Lunch Room.

The South End street will soon start taking on a festive appearance. Linemen of the Potomac Edison Company will erect banners and flags across the street at the start and finish lines.

Robert Groves, Police Department painter, will put down white and yellow lines to guide the youthful drivers and the Street Department sweeper will brush the course early Saturday.

Two more Lonaconing youngsters have entered the Derby, raising the entry list to 54. Both "old hands" at Soap Box competition, they are Lloyd Robertson, 14, of Waterliffe and Leo Carter, also 14, of Railroad Street.

Saturday's Derby will start at 1:15 p. m., with opening ceremonies scheduled for 1 o'clock. The program will get under way with a flag-raising by a color guard of the local Marine Reserve. This will be followed by the "Gasless Buggy," a race featuring four local high school coaches driving specially-built oversized Soap Box cars.

The English shoreline is about 18 miles from Europe (from Dover to Calais).

Shortage Of Teachers Is Explained

COLLEGE PARK, Md., July 12 (AP)—Although there is a tremendous boom in the number of new babies, the number of young persons reaching job age is declining, a National Education Association official said today.

Dr. Ray C. Maul cited the two conflicting trends as one fact indirectly responsible for the shortage of school teachers.

He told the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers that in 1945 there were 9,100,000 persons in the 18-to-21 age bracket, but last year there were only 8 million in this group—a drop of more than 1 million.

"Examining this problem of teacher shortage is artificial unless you consider this fact," Dr. Maul told the PTA delegates at their annual summer conference.

A continuing demand by national defense is another factor, the NEA official said.

Since 1950, when the nation decided to maintain a large defense force, Dr. Maul said, nearly 3 million young men must be considered lost to all professions for at least two years.

The speaker also noted that World War II created a vast variety of gainful occupations for women, destroying the priority teaching had on them for decades.

Dr. James Prince, assistant superintendent of Montgomery County schools, also a member of the panel examining teacher recruitment, described intercounty and interstate competition for graduating teachers.

He said he once traveled to West Virginia to sign up two girl graduates, but a New Jersey agent suddenly appeared on the scene and whisked the pair to New York in a plane for a round of entertainment.

"I later received my blank applications back," Dr. Prince said.

He said there is a false impression abroad in the land that anybody who can get to the door can teach. Of 2,000 potential teachers interviewed during the year, only about 500 qualify, Dr. Prince added.

Milton Raver, executive secretary of the Maryland State Teachers Association, urged teachers to tell the public of their plight. He echoed statements that teaching requires highly specialized knowledge and becomes more so every year.

By way of illustration, he said a new child and a potential student is born every eight seconds. It adds up to four million a year, Raver said.

Mrs. A. D. Pollock, a Frederick County representative on the panel, said the single thing which helped arouse Frederick counties last year was the hiring of 16 girl June graduates to start teaching the following September.

The chairman of the panel, David Weed of Montgomery County, noted that one out of three graduates from teaching colleges fails to enter the profession.

Ridgeley High Boosters Plan Several Activities

Further plans for entering a float in the Homecoming Parade in Ridgeley this year were made during a meeting of the Booster Club of the high school. Robert L. Lindsay, recently elected president of the organization, presided at a meeting on Monday night, and announced the club will sponsor a booth during the week of the Homecoming.

Among other activities discussed was a festival to be held at the Silver Street playground during the latter part of next month. Co-chairmen for the event are Regina Collins and Frances Davis.

At the club's next meeting on August 8 at the school ticket selling and membership drive committees will be named.

two in the 500-to-1,000 category, four employing 100 to 500 and 11 with fewer than 100 employees.

A map of the United States reveals that the Queen City of the Alleghenies is within accessible distance of 68 per cent of the country.

Similarly each of the other sections of the booklet contains an introduction and mass of information. Page 15, for instance, lists the cost of passenger transportation from Cumberland to Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Washington and New York by air, rail and bus.

Among the exhibits included in the back of Hargreaves' publication are folders about Cumberland, B&O Railroad schedules, Allegheny Airlines schedules and finally an official highway map of the State of Maryland.

Each item is figuratively only a tree, but the mass of these trees constitutes a forest which the Industrial Promotion Department of the Chamber of Commerce believes makes a desirable location for new industry.

Picnic Party Today

Pine Avenue Playground will hold a twilight picnic and wiener roast today at 8 p. m. on the playlot with swimming and dancing included among the activities.

On Friday the playlot will hold a stuffed animal show beginning at 7:30 p. m. with prizes to be awarded in the following categories:

largest, smallest, cutest, most unusual, and largest collection.

Following the animal show the weekly motion picture program will be held.

Bees Might Learn A Lesson From Man

The 5,000 bees brought to the United States from Paris in a test of their ability to judge time intervals have made it clear they want no truck with man's time zones. Apparently wherever they may be they are going to live by clocks which tell the time o'clock in France.

The scientist who brought the bees here by air in carefully controlled living conditions is trying to determine how it is that bees visit certain flowers only during the hours when the blooms are producing nectar. Are they guided by the time of day or by built-in clocks that register time intervals, he asks.

The test involved training the bees in Paris to expect a serving of sugar water at certain hours. Then when this became routine the bees were whisked to New York by air. Ignoring the five-hour difference in time between the two cities, the bees have continued to feed on their old schedule.

The initial deduction is the busy little bee is his own teller of the time and such things as the rhythm of day and night or the influence of cosmic rays mean nothing in his scheme of life.

Traditionally man in his formative years is sent to the birds and the bees to learn fundamental lessons of life. Maybe here is a case where the bee might well go to man for a lesson. Man could tell him, for instance, that the flower which offers nectar in the heat of the day in France at that same hour on the other side of the world might be asleep in the darkness of the night.

Then the bee would know that should he wander to such distances and try to ignore such things as time differences he should arrange to have a firefly light the way for him.

A Peculiar Definition

In a statement of principles regarding American Immigration and naturalization policies, the National Community Relations Advisory Council states:

"Immigration laws crystallize and express a society's basic human values . . ."

They do nothing of the sort. They only state specifically how many and what kind of immigrants a country will admit and by what procedures. Such a law has nothing to do with human values, a term lightly used without definition. When the United States was short of population, particularly of men who could do heavy labor, it imported large numbers of peasants from Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Italy and other Eastern and Southern European countries. Agents were sent into those countries by steel mills and road contractors to induce physically powerful men to emigrate to the United States. In an earlier period, Chinese coolies were shanghaied for work on our Western railroads at so much per head.

Today most of the work that those men did is done by machines and they are no longer essential. Were they essential, it would be sound to import them.

The N.C.R.A.C. statement says further: ". . . Such (immigration) laws affirm the degree of our acceptance or rejection of the essential equality of all human beings . . ."

The premise for such an assumption is that equality of "all human beings" is demonstrated by admitting them into the United States for permanent residence and for labor here. This presupposes that the 3,000,000 square miles of American territory can supply an indefinite number of human beings on the American standard of living. There is no data to confirm this at the present time. In fact, there is some concern among students of food supply on the subject.

Most of Great Britain's economic and political difficulties, for instance, arise from the fact that they can only feed 15,000,000 persons, while they have a population of 50,000,000. This means that they have to find the money in exchangeable currency (at present, principally dollars) to meet the cost of their imports of food, to say nothing of raw materials for their manufactures.

The United States ought never to find itself in such a condition. Therefore its increase in population needs to be studied in relation to its food supply. None of this has anything to do with "our professed ideals," except the ideal of maintaining the American standard of living and improving it, if possible.

The trouble with those who advocate changes in our immigration law is that they do not face the facts squarely. Such a sentence as, "Xenophobia has no place in a vigorous and confident democracy," adds nothing to our knowledge of the subject or wisdom in dealing with it.

Objection is particularly made to the National Origins Quota System which was adopted in 1924 and has been employed since, permitting a total of 150,000 immigrants a year to enter the United States. Except for the countries of the Western Hemisphere, a specific quota is set for each country each year, on the basis of the 1920 census of the total white population of the United States.

It so works out that about 70 per cent of the visas available each year go to countries of Northern and Western Europe. The countries of Eastern and Southern Europe and of Asia would like to send more immigrants to the United States, because they are over-populated.

The question has nothing to do with race, religion or local habitat. It has to do with the assimilability of immigrants. Those who voted for such a law believe that the peoples of Northern and Western Europe are more readily assimilated into the American culture than those people who come from other parts of the world. They make the point that ours is an Anglo-Saxon culture, basically identical with that of Great Britain, and close to the cultures of the Scandinavian and the Teutonic countries.

Those who do not believe that ours is an Anglo-Saxon culture raise the issue of racial discrimination and prefer to fight it out on those terms. If they can establish that other groups are as assimilable in the American culture as the favored groups, then they will have destroyed the argument for the National Origins Quota System. But then they need to propose some other form of limitation, as obviously the United States cannot physically admit all who want to come here.

The Call On The Credit Department

Creeping Inflation Is Today's Biggest Story

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Sometimes there's a big news story developing right in front of our eyes but, because there's no single dramatic climax, it escapes headlines.

Today the biggest story in America is the creeping inflation that has set in. It may eventually bring the value of the dollar down from around fifty cents, where it is at present, to twenty cents or even lower in the next two decades.

People wonder why the stock market is booming, but it should be no mystery. The stock market senses inflation faster nowadays than it does any other influence, and security values jump upward accordingly.

The most sensational piece of inflation news happened a fortnight ago. Just as soon as the CIO steelworkers' union held up the steel industry and forced it to pay a wage increase of around 15 cents an hour, the steel companies turned around and increased the price of steel by $7.50 a ton. That's about a five per cent increase and anybody who thinks you can put into effect a five per cent increase in steel prices without affecting almost the entire manufacturing economy of America isn't looking facts in the face.

Big wage increases have just been forced on the auto and copper industries, too.

Stability Important

Nobody begrudges American labor the enjoyment of high wages, but there comes a time when stability is more important than selfishness and greed. The union leaders are in a contest to get the most they can each year, and they are forcing wage increases in reckless disregard of their own labor-union members. For when inflation reaches its peak, the workers who have accumulated savings in the banks or in the form of pensions will suffer the greatest hardship. The dollars of today look good at the time but, when they will buy only twenty cents' worth of goods, they will not look so good.

Meniere's Syndrome Calls For Low Salt Diet

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Dizziness is an unpleasant sensation. When the attacks develop suddenly, as in Meniere's syndrome, the room or sky rotates around the individual and unless there is something to grasp, the victim may stagger and fall as though intoxicated.

If the person closes his eyes, he feels as though he were moving and the room or sky standing still. The experience is terrifying, especially when standing on a busy street corner or in a crowded store. Meniere's differs from the more common sensations of faintness or blacking out in that it often is accompanied by nausea, deafness, or ringing in the ears.

The underlying cause of the syndrome usually lies in the ear where the organ of equilibrium (labyrinth) is located. This structure is less than 1/4 inch in size and dizziness develops when it becomes distended, swollen, or stimulated through certain chemicals, drugs, and toxins.

There are many remedies, including dramamine, niacin, histamine, belladonna and sedatives, but none is 100 per cent perfect. A combination of belladonna and a sedative may be started first because symptoms are likely to be short-lived and disappear within a few days. If the bouts persist or return frequently, the other preparations may be needed to bring the condition under control.

A low salt diet often is used in conjunction with medication to combat swelling within the labyrinth. Eliminating table salt is not enough. Foods to be avoided include salty meat and fish; bread, crackers, and butter containing salt, and a group of foods that have a high sodium content including carrots, clams, condensed milk, raisins, caviar, cowpeas, olives, spinach, cheese, endive, and oysters.

But the sufferer need not starve as he can eat meat, fish, fowl, and eggs prepared without salt; cereals such as oatmeal and rice; corn, cranberries, prunes, plums, cream, honey, jams, jellies, sugar, and candy, and milk, tea, and coffee as desired.

The following foods may be taken no more than twice weekly: lima beans, beets, buttermilk, cantaloupe, cauliflower, celery, chard, dried coconut, dates, figs, horse-radish, kohlrabi, limes,

So be careful, of political reprisals, the government takes no action to protect the public interest, while the labor unions, on the one hand, and the corporations, on the other, fix the prices. The smaller units in business which didn't need to pay as high wages as their big competitors now are being gradually forced out of business. Monopolies and quasi-monopolies today are in command of the nation's economy.

In Europe, in order to hold labor unions and corporations at bay, either the corporate state of Fascism or the state-controlled mechanism of Communism is introduced. Both are instruments of totalitarianism and offer no solution for America.

Revision of the anti-trust laws is often talked about in Washington, but nothing is done about it. The labor unions are today engaged in a "restraint of trade" in much the same way that the corporations operated in the 1890's, when the Sherman Anti-Trust Law was born. But there's no sentiment on Capitol Hill today to put through any important changes in the anti-trust laws.

Inflation Outlook

So the outlook is for more and more inflation, and, of course, more and more devaluation in the purchasing power of the dollar, and higher prices and a gradual depreciation of the value of pensions and retirement benefits. Labor-union leaders are forgetting tomorrow and living only in today's atmosphere of rivalry in which one labor chief vies with another to get the maximum. Strikes are too costly to be endured, so management gives in without a struggle. Then, as if convinced that the public will not mind, the price increases are announced almost immediately after the termination of the wage controversies with the unions.

Another cycle of price increases generally now is in the offing. If profits of corporations are too high, the answer doesn't lie in turning the excess over to one industry, but in sharing it with the entire public in the form of price decreases. Today's system is a triumph for special privilege—the monopolistic unions and corporations.

The end result—economic depression—will not be apparent till it comes. For economic laws are never repealed. The inevitability of a price spiral and a consequent reduction in the dollar's value are as plain to see today as they have been in similar period in the economic history of the world. Bad economic practices do not always make headlines—but they can make headlines.

To add impetus to the program, drugs like ammonium chloride are given to encourage the body to eliminate salt deposits in the tissues. Histamine and niacin work best when a circulatory disorder is suspected by improving the blood supply to the labyrinth. Sometimes the syndrome is traceable to allergy such as sensitivity to wheat. Relief follows finding and eliminating the cause.

SOFT SPOT CLOSURE
D. S. writes: If the soft spots in a baby's skull are slow to close, does this mean anything serious?
REPLY
The fontanels in the skull usually close before the first birthday. When they remain open the child may have rickets, cretinism, or hydrocephalus.

IRON SHORTAGE

REPLY
The type due to a deficiency in iron. Blood loss and diet low in protein and other foods containing iron are the most common causes. We have a leaflet describing the different types of anemia (including hypochromic) that may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Deilen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Rotarians Hear Talk By Native Of Denmark

Nation's Living
Standard Praised

FROSTBURG — Holger Olsen, of Esbjerg, Denmark, was the speaker at the Monday evening meeting of the Frostburg Rotary Club held at Layman's Farm, Route 40, west. Olsen, a Rotary Foundation Fellow, was chosen by the Rotary Clubs of Denmark, from a long list of applicants, for a year's study in the university of his choice in a country other than his own. For the past year he has been studying at Harvard University, majoring in business economics. He is a graduate also of the University of Copenhagen in his native country.

Olsen, praised the United States for its high standard of living and stated that in his opinion if the countries of Europe would forget boundary lines like the states of our country, it would open up markets for the manufactured goods of every country and eventually raise their standards of living. He pointed out that Norway, Sweden and Denmark have already taken a step in that direction by permitting their citizens to cross borders without special permits to work in one of the other countries.

Guests were present from Meyersdale, Pa., Piedmont and Grantsville clubs. Included among the Cumberland guests was Past District Governor Charles Kopp.

Ray H. Ward, chairman of the picnic committee announced that the annual family picnic will be held next Monday afternoon and evening at the YMI Park. Entertainment and games have been provided for all ages.

Mrs. Lancaster To Be Frostburg Bank Director

The board of directors of the Fidelity Savings Bank, Frostburg, has elected Mrs. Betty Lancaster to succeed the late Rudolph Nickel as director. Mrs. Lancaster is the first woman named to the board in the bank's 53-year history, but her family has been connected with the Fidelity for much of that time.

Her father, the late Conrad Hohing, served as a director and treasurer of the institution for 30 years, until his death in 1934. Mrs. Lancaster's mother was the late Lenore Smyth Hohing.

Mrs. Lancaster began her connection with banking at the age of 13 as a part time summer replacement. She worked in that capacity until her graduation from Temple University, where she studied business administration and accounting, in 1934. From that time until January 1951 Mrs. Lancaster was employed full time by the Fidelity Bank, working in every position except that of an officer. She resigned following her marriage in late 1950 to Harold M. Lancaster, draftsman in the project engineering department of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke. Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster reside at 86 Bowery Street, Frostburg, and have two children, Patricia and Warren.

Mrs. Lancaster's interests, in addition to her duties as a housewife, include management of the insurance agency founded many years ago by her father and the late G. Dud Hocking, and participation in the affairs of the First Presbyterian Church, of which she is a trustee.

Mrs. Lancaster is an officer of the Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch of the AAUW and of the College Laboratory School PTA.

A spokesman for the Fidelity said, in making the announcement of Mrs. Lancaster's election: "We believe that our bank will profit greatly by having available the viewpoint of a woman in determining policy. Today women own an overwhelming majority of interest in all American business corporations, and daily more and more women are elected to serve on corporate boards. The Fidelity is keeping abreast of modern business practice in this respect, and we congratulate ourselves that Mrs. Lancaster, with her rich background of banking experience and wide personal and business contacts in this community has agreed to accept the responsibility of her new position."

Murray Hurls Four-Hitter, Whiffs Nine

Midland Winner, 6-5, Over Grantsville On Single By Thompson

LEGION JR. LEAGUE

W. L. Cumberland 5 1 Frostburg 2 3
Midland 4 2 Grantsville 0 3

Lefty Wayne Murray turned in a four-hit pitching performance and threw the third strike past nine batsmen as Fort Cumberland Post trounced Farrady Post by the score of 11-1 yesterday at Fort Hill Field and retained its one-game lead in the Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball League.

The locals scored five runs in the third inning and exploded for five more tallies in the sixth in avenging their only loss of the season at Frostburg.

Clarence "Pooch" Lewis sparked the nine-hit attack on Lefty Bill Roberts, the loser, Fleegle, Mallow and Mallow, by hitting safely four times in as many official trips. Ed Parsons and Ed McKenney garnered two hits each.

Farrady Post collected only four singles and one base on balls off the stingy Murray.

Jimmy Thompson's single to right field in the last of the 7th scored Bobby Munden with the run that gave Midland Post a 6-5 victory over Grantsville in a game played yesterday at the Midland Ball Park.

With one away in the 7th, Munden got his second hit of the game, pilfered second, moved to third on Bonnie Wilkison's sacrifice and broke a 5-5 tie when he came home on Thompson's base walk.

Rogish started on the mound for Midland but gave way to Wilkison in the top of the 7th. The latter, who got credit for the win, fanned the side in the only inning he pitched.

Kenny Johnson, left fielder of Midland, turned in a pair of fielding gems, one a shoestring stab and the other a leaping catch on hard hit balls. Munden was the only player to obtain two hits. The loss was charged to Ted Colaw, who relieved Fred Colaw in the 6th inning.

Orioles 7 6 Barreilleville 2 13

Bunching three runs in the 4th inning and a like number of tallies in the sixth, the LaVale Orioles cracked the 13-game winning streak of the LaVale Maroons by whipping the Pen-Mar Little League leaders yesterday by the score of 7-5. It was the first defeat of the season for the Maroons.

Lowery, Willetts, Kamnauf and Wharton accounted for the Maroons' hits. Femi blasted a homer and single for the losers.

Cresapton's Black Sox unloaded an 11-hit barrage to defeat Ellerslie on the latter's field, 14-9. Three homers punctuated this game and were hit by Lewis, McKenzie and Davis of the Sox. Lewis collected three hits for the victors. John Lowery rapped a double and single for Ellerslie.

Moan fashioned a three-hitter as Cresapton's Red Sox took Barreilleville into camp, 6-2, at Cresapton. Roy Hosier paced the victors with a home run and triple while Neuhiser banged a two-bagger and single for the cellarites. Scores:

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, July 12—(INS)—Over long distance from New York, LOP (she hadn't been off the plane from Rome an hour) tells us that Barbara Bel Geddes has been signed by Otto Preminger as Frank Sinatra's leading lady in "The Man With The Golden Arm."

"Of course, arrangements had to be made with Elia Kazan and the playwright company for Barbara to get four weeks off 'Cat On A Hot Tin Roof,'" Miss Parsons explained. "She'll get just enough time off this summer to make the picture."

This isn't the first time Barbara has worked for Preminger. She did "The Moon Is Blue" on the stage for him—and she's excited about this second venture. It starts as soon as Otto finishes "Court Martial Of Billy Mitchell" at Warners.

Mario Lanza, a blythe spirit himself these days, is turning into quite the prankster on the Warner lot. He has the speaking voice of his boss Jack Warner, and his producer Henry Blanke, down to a T and he's having a ball imitating them and giving out some fantastic orders to assorted employees.

But you haven't heard anything yet until Mario goes into his really terrific take-offs on Nat "King" Cole and Billy Ekstine. Right in the middle of a recording for his "Serenade" the other day he did a switcheroo and finished it as King Cole would sing it!

Nothing matters as long as the boy keeps happy.

The many friends of Janet Gaynor and Adrian will be distressed to learn that Janet has been dangerously ill following surgery at a hospital in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Adrian has just brought her back to their fabulous jungle plantation ranch home and, according to a letter from her mother, Janet's recuperation is slow.

Her son, Robin, and her mother knew nothing of her illness until they were met at the boat by Adrian, who told them Janet's illness had come on suddenly and that she was still a very sick girl.

Hollywood in shorts: Mel Torme and Candy welcomed a little sugar, a six-pound seven-ounce girl named Melissa, over the weekend.

Van Heflin's contract for "View From The Bridge" on Broadway permits him time off to make a movie in May.

Isn't Robert Francis concentrating on Ann Russell these evenings? They are practically an every night dining date at their favorite bistro, Aldo's.

That's all today!

Two Children Injured By Air Rifle Pellets

Girls Treated At Hospital

Two six-year-old girls were struck by air rifle pellets yesterday evening while they were playing near their homes on Race Street.

However, neither of the girls was reported seriously hurt by the shots from a semi-automatic air rifle handled by an eight-year-old boy of South Cedar Street, who was in the company of a seven-year-old Third Street boy.

Taken to Memorial Hospital for treatment were Sharon Lee Bennett, 201 Race Street, and Dorothy Marie Harvey, 215 Race Street.

The Bennett child, according to police, was injured when one of the B-Bs lodged in her upper lip. The other girl reportedly was hit in the left side of her chest.

City Police received a call from the mother of one of the boys saying that her son came home with an air rifle.

Prior to this call, police were notified of the two girls being shot. Upon questioning by police when they checked the second call they learned that the two boys had been swimming at Constitution Park.

En route home one of the boys reportedly saw the gun lying near a woodpile at an Oldtown Road property and took it.

When the boys reached Race Street, one boy said he pointed the gun at the girls at close range and blasted away. The two boys were turned over to their parents following questioning.

Six Will Aid Flood Survey

One member from each of the six volunteer fire companies in the George's Creek Valley last night accepted responsibility to handle the coming flood damage surveys in their respective communities.

The volunteers will be briefed today or tomorrow by Reuben Hess, an economist, who is serving on a three-man committee from the United States Soil Conservation Service which is preparing a sub-watershed work plan for the George's Creek watershed.

Handling the distribution of flood damage questionnaires in their respective communities will be G. Franklin Martens, Frostburg; Francis Philpott, Shaft; Harry Smith, Midland; John Eichhorn, Lonaconing; William Brown, Barton; and Mayor Okey Michael, Westernport.

They were designated at a meeting last night in the Frostburg City Hall, Charles S. Harvey, chairman of the George's Creek Flood Control Association, presided. Others attending were Craig Right, hydrologist, and William Pennell, engineer, who also are on the survey team; Arnold W. Bolle, new state soil conservationist; Kendall Jarvis, state engineer for the SCS; Martin Gordon and Stuart Delbrook, conservationists for the local office of the SCS.

River Board To Air Plans For More Dams

Rep. Hyde Plans To Attend Meeting

Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde will attend a meeting of the Upper Potomac River Board here August 11 to hear proposals for constructing additional water storage dams on the upper reaches of the Potomac River.

Mark W. Roe, chairman, said the meeting will be held August 11 at 3 p. m. in the Health Department's training center in the Union Street County building.

Want More Storage

The main discussion, according to J. B. Dowling, who represents the County Health Department on the board, will deal with proposals for building more storage dams so water from the huge watershed may be let down gradually.

The proposal, he added, calls for an extension of the principle which resulted in the construction of the Savage River Dam, designed to regulate the flow of the stream for industrial purposes, to alleviate pollution and to aid in controlling floods in this area.

The big dam, filled for the first time on January 2, 1952, impounded 6 1/2 billion gallons of water. It was first proposed by the River Board in 1929.

Additional water is stored in the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company's dam on Stony River.

Dowling said Rep. Hyde has expressed interest in the proposal which would add to the usefulness of the Potomac River.

To Invite Mayors

Also to be invited to attend the meeting are representatives of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, which is building a $34,000,000 plate glass plant along the Potomac River at North Branch.

W. D. Claus, secretary, is also sending invitations to the mayors of communities which border on the Potomac River.

Tentative recommendations on the proposals were presented by J. G. Patrick, supervisory engineer for the Savage River Dam, at a recent meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin.

Rev. Richards To Preach Here

Rev. James A. Richards, D.D., former pastor of First Methodist Church, will preach and sing at the local church on Sunday.

He was pastor of the church here from June 1946 until October 1947, when he resigned to enter YMCA work. Rev. Richards reentered the Methodist ministry and has just closed a three-year pastorate at Grace Methodist Church, Staten Island, N. Y.

Dr. Richards will preach on the subject, "Beginning Again With God." A bass soloist, he will sing two numbers, "The Lord is My Shepherd," by Liddle and "I'd rather Have Jesus," by George B. Shea.

Last year, Dr. Richards developed a conference-wide choir of 800 voices for the United Evangelical Mission Rally attended by 8,000 Methodists in the Armory in Teaneck, N. J.

The public is invited to attend the service, according to Rev. Everett W. Culp, pastor of the local church.

Glass Plant Excavation Under Way

The George F. Hazelwood Company, this city, has been awarded the sub-contract to do the excavation work for the new $34,000,000 Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch, it was learned last night.

The sub-contract was awarded to the local firm by Consolidated Engineering Company, Inc., of Baltimore, which received the general contract from the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

Excavation work at the plant site is starting this week and the Hazelwood company has moved much heavy equipment to the location.

The local company did the original grading work at North Branch last fall, moving some 600,000 yards of dirt in the process.

Hazelwood will work around the clock on the excavation job having about 20 days to finish the first phase of the work. The company will have three eight-hour shifts on the job until it is finished. Speed is important so that work can begin on the steel work for the plant.

Several weeks ago when Consolidated Engineering was announced as the general contractor, Harry B. Higgins, president of Pittsburgh Plate Glass, said that the first phase of construction was expected to be finished by next July with the plant ready for operation by the end of 1956.

Bicentennial News Briefs

Bicentennial officials said the Cumberland Brewing Company has approved the tentative design for the float it will enter in the parades planned here during the week of August 14-20. The design features the Old Export seal, set in a mountain, with a stream of water gushing from the seal, and two six-foot beverage bottles nestled in ice.

The Tee-Hee Tavern Chapter of the Bicentennial Belles will meet Friday at 8 p. m.

Men of the area who do not want to grow beards but wish to support the Bicentennial—escape the wrath of the Kangaroo Courts held by the Brothers of the Brush—may secure official shaver's permits at Bicentennial Headquarters or at several local barber shops.

President Extends Congratulations On Bicentennial

Congratulations have been extended to the citizens of Cumberland by President Dwight D. Eisenhower on the occasion of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial.

President Eisenhower wired thanks to Col. F. Egerton Powell, Bicentennial chairman, for his invitation to attend the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the naming of Fort Cumberland.

He said it will not be possible for him to attend, but sent his congratulations to Col. Powell and his fellow citizens, adding:

"Cumberland, today a center of industry and transportation, has a rich history, particularly in those chapters concerning the early career of George Washington and the opening of the West."

"I know all of you will enjoy an informative and successful celebration."

County Board Asked To Open Roads At Plant

Permanent Closing Is Eventual Aim

Representatives of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company yesterday filed an application with the Board of Allegheny County Commissioners requesting the opening of certain roads to pass through and cross the company's plant site at North Branch in Election District No. 16.

The company's action yesterday was the first step in a plan to close the roads permanently. By taking action now the company aims to avoid any future questions as to the right of any persons to use roads or right-of-ways over the company's manufacturing site.

Once the county commissioners approve the petitioner's application for opening the roads as public roads, the company will file another petition requesting the closing of the roads.

The company owns approximately 600 acres of land which it proposes to use as the site of its manufacturing plant costing more than $30,000,000. The property was acquired last year from Irene M. Valentine, Frank C. Bloss, Lewis W. Bloss, William A. Sowers, Lester E. Courtney, Ronald Y. Lohr, the Liberty Trust Company as trustee for Rachel Bloss, James W. Stuckey, the Western Maryland Railway Company and the Real Estate and Improvement Company of Baltimore City.

Some of the deeds in the chains of titles of some of the parcels provide for certain roads and right-of-ways but none of the roads or right-of-ways has been accepted as a public road by the county commissioners or any other public body having jurisdiction except for such parts of roads now included in the county road which crosses the southerly part of the site near the right-of-way of the old C&O Canal.

The petition was signed by David G. Hill, vice president of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, and William C. Walsh, attorney for the firm.

The booklet begins with the following introduction:

"The Industrial Promotion Department of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, on behalf of the people and interests represented in this proposal, is pleased to submit the warrant which it hopes is sufficient to warrant full consideration of your plant facilities in the Cumberland area."

"The facilities and services available in the Cumberland area are as excellent as many areas of much larger population. The cultural advantages of metropolitan living are present as well as the economic advantages of river valley location."

"Cumberland business, labor and government offer your company full cooperation. "CUMBERLAND WANTS NEW INDUSTRY!"

Then comes the community section of the booklet. It offers a brief historical sketch about the area. On another page captioned "National Defense," Hargreaves notes that by reason of directives of the Office of Defense Mobilization, it is now permissible to obtain as much as 100 per cent rapid write-ups of all defense-related industrial plants in the Cumberland area.

There also is data about the industrial promotion program which costs $4 per capita, municipal votes, and such general information as the fact that Cumberland's elevation is 641 feet above sea level and the average July temperature is 74.5 degrees.

A list of major industries in the area shows five (with the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant employing 1,000 or more).

Cast Of 1,000 Promised For Spectacle Here

Redskins & Redcoats Rehearsals Begin

Most of the casting for the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial spectacle, "Redskins and Redcoats," has been completed and voice tryouts will begin Friday according to French Sensabaugh, director.

Major work on the task of selecting the cast was completed at a meeting here Monday night, when area organizations promised to furnish some 1,000 persons for the cast.

For the prologue, the Boy Scouts will provide 200 uniformed members and the Girl Scouts a like number of performers. Members of the Tri-Hi-Y and 4-H Clubs of the area also will take part.

The Potomac Riding Club has promised to furnish horses for the opening of the spectacle.

Still needed for the prologue are trumpeters, cadets and dancing girls, Sensabaugh said.

To Furnish Cast

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, will provide couples of dancers for "Governor Sharpe's Ball," the Maryland National Guard 100 men for British and Colonial soldiers, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, men to take the part of French soldiers.

For the Fort Cumberland stockade scenes, the Loyal Order of Moose will furnish 10 couples; the Men of St. Mary's Church, 10 couples; St. Paul's Lutheran Church 12 couples; Red Men and Order of Pocahontas, 18 couples; Emmanuel Episcopal Church, 20 couples; Ridgely Mayor and Council, 20 couples and the Junior Association of Commerce, 10 couples.

Firemen in Cast

Firemen who will take part in the enactment of the big fire of 1835 will be furnished by the Cresaptown and Bowling Green volunteer fire departments.

The Lions and Kiwanis clubs will supply 15 couples each for both the fire and the B&O Railroad scenes.

The Rotary Club is furnishing the cast to be used in the enactment of the capture of Generals Cook and Kelly.

For the C&O Canal scenes and portions marking the turn of the century, Homemakers clubs will supply 30 couples, Soroptimists 12 old-fashioned bathing beauties, the Junior American Legion Auxiliary 10 girls, the Loyal Order of Moose a band, and the Eagles and Elks each will supply 10 couples.

For the Roaring 20s scene, actors will be furnished by the Tri-Hi-Y Club and the Eagles.

The Civitan Club will supply the cast for the war scene.

Leads Are Selected

Several of the lead characters have also been chosen.

They include Richard K. Matlick, Washington as a young man; Edward Piper, Washington in 1794; Michael Heiskell, General Braddock; and Edward Hare, Col. Joshua Fry.

Additional personnel will be needed, Sensabaugh said, and organizations which plan to sponsor portions of the cast are urged to contact Harry I. Siegmaier, pageant chairman, or Sensabaugh at Bicentennial headquarters.

Voice tryouts for "Redskins and Redcoats" will be held at 9:30 p. m. Friday in the AFL Labor Temple, 125 South Liberty Street. There will be four women and seven men chosen for narration and dialogue. Anyone wishing to try out is requested to attend.

The stirring spectacle will have a pantomimic cast of over 1,000 people, who will enact the colorful scenes on the gigantic stage to be built at Fort Hill Stadium. The voice cast, unseen to the audience, will portray the voices of the actors on stage.

All girls, high school or older, interested in dancing or taking part are requested to attend the Prologue rehearsal Thursday at 3 p. m. at the Armory. The schedule of rehearsals follows:

SRC Receives Bids On Bridge Sidewalk Job

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, announced yesterday the State Foundation Corporation of Manchester (Md.) was apparent low bidder on a bridge sidewalk project at the north end of Lonaconing.

Chaires said the bid was for $4,367. Second low was the George Construction Company of Cumberland, with a bid of $6,032.78. Six were entered in the bidding, with the highest running to $7,131.

The project calls for construction of a steel and timber sidewalk on the outside of the downstream side of the bridge on State Route 36.

Chaires said this will leave the present concrete handrail of the bridge between traffic and pedestrians. Lonaconing residents have expressed concern about the safety of school children who must cross the narrow bridge in traffic.

The sidewalk will be five feet wide and 128 feet long.

Jaycees To Sell Wooden Money For Bicentennial

Commemorative wooden nickels, dimes and quarters which will be distributed in conjunction with the coming Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Celebration will be sold by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce to the many cooperating stores in town.

Oscar H. Lashley Jr., Jaycee president, said that local banks will act as the redeeming agencies. The wooden money may be redeemed for regular currency at any of the participating banks up to August 16. The Jaycees hope to have the wooden coins within a week or so.

All funds derived from money which is retained by the citizens of the area as souvenirs of the Bicentennial Fund to help defray various expenses.
